DOCUMENTS

Accompanying a message from the President of the United States — Comprising at full length, all the papers not previously inserted in the National Intelligencer.

(Concluded.)

Extract of a letter from Dr. John Sibley to the sec'ry at war, dated

Natchitoches, May 1, 1805.

"The Chactaw chief at the same time reported to me, that a party of his people had lately returned from a hunting voyage on the bay of St. Bernard, and that they there fell in with two parties of Spanish troops, who had lately arrived there by water, and had their shipping then laying there; that they were building two forts, and had got them considerably advanced; one of them at the mouth of Trinity river, at the Occokesaws, the other further to the westward, near the Carankuas; they did not know by what name they called the place, but I take it to be Matogordo. That the Spanish officer at Occokesaws, had commissioned one of his hunters as a chief —and told him that the Americans holding this country, was all wind; that if they were wise, should abandon us, and attach themselves to them; the Spaniards, for their old friends would not forsake them; but that they were advancing against the Americans, and should soon build a fort in Oppelousas, and another at Attakapa, and one at or near Natchitoches, and proceed on towards New Orleans; and the officer told him he was in want of spades to go on f s er with the works; that if the Indians would come in amongst the Americans & buy what they could and bring to him, he would give them a horse for each spade they would bring.

This hunter on his arrival at Bayou Chicico, at the Choctaw village, finding the chief absent, sent off a runner to notify him of it, and to be on his guard against the Americans, for all Louisiana would soon again belong to Spain.

Mr. Fulsome, whom I occasionally employ as interpreter, was present when the chief received this mes age, and came in with him to me, who likewise said there was at the same time a Spaniard in the Choctaw camp asleep, and that after the runner had delivered his message, he Fulsome, awakened the Spaniard, and asked him if he knew any thing of a Spanish force having arrived at the Occokesaws, and he said he had heard so.

An American gentleman, a captain Fristo, of Tennessee, was with me a few hours ago, he is lately from Nacogdoches, and informs he understood the same when he was at that place.."

Extract of a letter from captain Turner to gen. James Wilkinson, dated

Fort Claiborne, Natchitoches, May 3d, 1805.

Within these two days I have received information that the Spaniards have absolutely established themselves both at Matogordo, and the Orcoquizas. They came by sea, and immediately commenced fortifying. The informer is an Indian chief of the Chactaws, who says, that a warrior of his nation, who has been hunting with the Carankuas, on the Bay of St. Bernard, has returned loaded with Spanish presents and caressss; and says, that the commanding officer told him, that he and his people had better abandon the Americans, and come under the protection of the Spaniards, who would never forsake their old friends: and bid him witness their present proceedings, giving him to understand that it was only preparatory to their taking possession of the country again, which would not long remain in the hands of the Americans, as they meant to edge themselves along till they got Orleans; that the warior appeared to believe what was told him, and had returned with different ideas respecting Americans than he possessed before. The informer further says, that the Spanish troops were in want of spades, and told this Indian, and those who were with him, that if they would bring some from this place, or Oppelousas, he would give them a horse for every one delivered."

Extract of a letter from Dr. John Sibley to the secretary of war, dated

Natchitoches, May 31, 1805.

"I sent Mr. Fulsome to bring in the chief and the party of Choctaws who had lately returned from the bay of St. Bernard, and had given us an account of the ports of Matogordo and Occokesaws being lately taken possession of. Mr. Fulsome found them and brought them in. He can give no certain acccount of any troops being at Matogordo; but he was at the Occokesaws, and saw them; they were building a fort; but a small number of soldiers.

The chief says, the Spanish officer advised him and all his nation to come to them; that their great father over the water had not forgotton them, and gave them not only his hand but his whole arm. He says, the party he saw came there by land: but the evening he left that place, he saw a vessel in the bay, that the officer said was coming to them with a reinforcement. He likewise says, he heard they intended to build forts soon at Oppelousas, Attakapa and Natchitoches; but he did not hear the officer say it."

Extract of a letter from Dr. John Sibley to the secretary of war, dated

Natchitoches, July 2, 1805.

"A man by the name of St. Pre arrived here yesterday from the Spanish country. He speaks French: I have just had some conversation with him. He says that there are 500 families arrived at St. Antonio, settlers, with a considerable reinforcement of troops; and that 100 soldiers were coming to Nacogdoches, 50 of whom were to be there by the 15th inst."

Extract of a letter from captain Turner to gen. Wilkinson, dated Fort Claiborne, Natchitoches, Sept. 3, 1805.

"About a month ago Mr. Shabus, of this place, received a letter dated St. Antonio, from Padre Puellet, telling him that the commandant general, Mr. Grimare, direct from the court of Spain, was expected in August at the Rio Grand, where a great number of people of the province of Taxus was to meet him; that he was accompanied by 7 companies coming to St. Antonio, which place he was to make his residence, and that captain Amangual was to be stationed with his full * company at Nacogdoches. Mr. Shabus received a passage from the governor of St. Antonio, and a letter from the bishop, requesting him to come on immediately to make preparations for the commandant general.

Said Shabus says that he (the commandant general) was high in the confidence of the court of Spain, and sent an account of the limits. Six hundred families coming from Spain to settle at Matagordo, had put into the Canary islands."

Extract of a letter from the same to the same, dated Fort Claiborne, Natchitoches, September 30, 1805.

The new governor, Antonio C rdero, has arrived at St. Antonio.

Two men have arrived from Nacogdoches, one of whom says he saw a letter from Mr. Barr to Davenport, written at St. Antonio, saying that he was waiting to set out with the colonel, who was to take command of Nacogdoches. He was to have two companies with him, one of which was to reinforce the Orcoquisas and the other to be divided between Nacogdoches and Adeis.

The white men employed by the Indian agent are now with me, and relate the following:

"At about six days march, nearly south west from here, they c me in sight of a fort of stockade, as well as they could judge from the distance they saw it. They were discovered by the garrison, and a number of horsemen (to the amount of at least fifty) immediately sallied out from or near the picket work, in line, and gave them chase; as they approached they formed a half circle in order to enclose them; they, the Americans, escaped to the woods, which were within a league; the Spaniards continued the pursuit about fifteen miles. They imagined the fort or picket work to be about one hundred and twenty miles from this place, and is situated in open ground in the bottom of a prarie, at the confluence of the Trinity and Snow rivers, about twenty miles from the sea.

They were further informed that the place where the fort is was called Orcoquisas."

Extract of a letter from a Mr. Johnson, son of a colonel Johnson, of Kentucky, to Dr. Sibley, dated

"Nacogdoches, 3d Oct. 1805.

"I have chosen this method of informing you of the receipt of a letter from Mr. Barr but a few minutes since, which mentions that he will be here the day after to-morrow, accompanied by the new commandant, who had under his charge two companies of 110 each. The one is to be stationed at the Trinity until further orders, the other is for this place, with orders to make it a place of defence."

Extract of a letter from captain Bower to lieut. col. Freeman, dated Oppelousas, 13th Oct. 1805.

Yesterday judge Collins waited on me, and informed me, that the minds of the citizens of this district were considerably agitated on a report being in circulation that a number of Spanish troops have taken post on the Kelquehoes, some distance on the side of the Sabine. Report says, the number does not fall short of eight hundred. I have no idea the force is as strong as reported, but that there are some Spanish troops in that quarter, I have not the smalleft doubt.

Some time before captain Stille left Atakapa, he had certain information, that a regular patrole was kept on the Sabine, and were relieved weekly from the post of Nacogdoches. Since thon I have been informed (how true I cannot say) that two of the inhabitants of this country are prisoners at that post.

Extract of a letter from Governor Claiborne, to the Secretary of War, dated

New-Orleans, October 30th, 1805.

Six hundred troops have arrived at Pensacola from the Havannah, and it is reported that the garrisons of Mobile and Baton Rouge are to receive considerable reinforcements.

A governor general for the province of Taxus has arrived at St. Antonio; he is a brigadier general, and said to posseſs military talents.

A fort is erected on Trinity river, and about two hundred men (the greater part) are there ſtationed.

BOSTON, January 3.

Capt. Elliot, master of the brig Elisabeth Coates, of Newburyport, arrived in this town last evening from New Providence, via New York; he informs that the Elizabeth Coates, was from Martinique bound home, but being blown off the coast he put into New Providence in distress; he left his mate and one hand with the brig; it is expected she will be condemned as not sea worthy. Captain E. left about thirty sail of American vessels at N. Providence, among which were the schr. Caroline, Partridge, of Boston, she was taken off the Havanna and carried in for adjudication; and the schr. James, Rogers, 117 days from Copenhagen for Boston, she sailed from Copenhagen Aug. 20, and eight days after put into Norway to stop a leak; sailed from thence Sept. 1; on the 10th experienced a severe gale, which carried away the camboose, coops, &c. Nov. 1, shipped a heavy sea, which cast the vessel on her beam ends, carried away the railings, opened the seams of her deck, and started the bulk head. After this gale they experienced several others which obliged them to lay to, at different times, 22 days. November 30, fell in with brig Brilliant of Baltimore, and got a supply of provisions, being then reduced to 12 pounds of flour and a few potatoes. December 6, lat. 25, 30, long. 65, fell in with the ship Financier, Sargent, from Madras bound to Boston, who kindly offered to supply them with necessaries, but blowing hard, and a heavy sea, they were afraid to put out their boat. And on the 14th arrived at Nassau, N. P. she is loaded with hemp and iron.

BALTIMORE, January 10.

Arrived yesterday, brig Henry, Allen, from Point Petre, Guadaloupe; sailed thence 21st Dec.

Left there the brig John, 11 days from Boston; schooner Temperance, to sail for Sagharbor in 6 days; the brig Brilliant, Montserat, to sail for Baltimore the last of February; the schooner Nymph, Gover, to sail in 20 days; schooner Eliza, Sylva, to sail for New York in 20 days. Dec. 2, two hours out of the harbor of Point Petre, I was brought to by an English privateer; he did not detain us long, there being two French privateers astern of us, that he made the best of his way to get clear; but they were so near him that they brought him to with the second shot, then bore away for Basseterre with him in tow. December 2, off Point Peter, spoke the schooner Dolphin, 18 days from Philadelphia. January 6, six leagues from Cape Henry, spoke the schooner Mary, Middeston bound to St. Jago. Cape Henry bearing south 7 miles distant, saw a brig under a jury mast to the eastward, making in for the cape.

Extract of a letter from a very respectable house, dated

London, Nov. 6, 1805.

"By this vessel (the British Packet) we send you a phamphlet, which has excited much attention here, entitled, "War in disguise, or the frauds of the neutral flags." It is supposed to be written under the auspices and to speak the sentiments of government: and if so, we think it will shortly be impossible to send with safety any colonial produce from our shores. We already doubt the prudence of so doing in the present unsettled state of the great question in agitation between your government and ours, for such produce is daily hung up for further proof in our admiralty court, and yesterday the Young Cornelia from New York to Amsterdam, was with a great part of her cargo absolutely condemned, and the judge said he was astonished that any surprise was excited by the late decision as there was nothing new in the principle of them!!

"Under all circumstances, we would advise shipments to be made with the greatest precautions, to avoid the imputation of continuity of voyage from any of the enemies colonies, to any of the belligerent countries in Europe; and we really think it adviseable that every vessel should touch at Falmouth or Cowes for orders, whilst the present system lasts."

January 11.

Arrived, schr. Ethan Allen, M'Combs, 26 days from Cayenne. Left sch'r Five Sisters, Brown, of Norfolk, to sail in 2 days for Surrinam; the brig Olive Branch, Boomer, of New York, sailed for Charleston the day before. Spoke nothing. Saw a schooner ashore on the beach.

Also, sch'r Susan, Everson, 27 days from St. Jago. Left there brig Ann and Mary, Mallory, for Baltimore next day; sch'r Montserat, Davis; Henry, Gold, and Buckskin, Henry, of Baltimore, uncertain. No prizes had been brought in for some time. Off Cape Maize was boarded by the Wolf and Pelican English sloops of war and treated politely.

Also, sloop George Washington and Charlotte, from New York.

Also, sloop Hebe, Pearsall, from Mocha, and 90 days from the Isle of France. Left the Isle of France 12th October, after an embargo of 5 days which continued when we sailed. The ship George Washington, Tarris, of Philadelphia, from Batavia, condemned as unseaworthy; the supercargo had bought another ship to bring home her cargo; and ship Good Friends, Thompson, of Philadelphia, from Leghorn, bound to Batavia; touched at the Isle of Ascension; the ship Hampton, Isaacs, from Calcutta, sailed for New York the evening before; off that place was boarded by an English 50 gun ship from Bengal, bound to Europe, with the Marquis of Wellesly and suite on board. Crossing the line was boarded by a Liverpool privateer: in long. 70, spoke the ship Pilgrim, from Philadelphia for Campeachy, out 8 days.

BY THIS DAY's MAIL.

Foreign Intelligence.

From London papers received by the British Packet, arrived at New York.

Auſtrian Official Accounts.

Vienna, Oct. 20.

After the first official information respecting the events of war, was inserted in the Court Gazette of yesterday, dispatches were brought from the army, by major Flachenfield: in consequence of his arrival, the following accounts were published:

1. Battle of Wertingen, fought on the 8th of October, under the command of field Marshal baron Von Auffenburgh. In the evening of the 7th of October, field marshal baron Von Auffenburgh was detached from Guntzburgh to Wertingen, with six battallions of grenadiers, three of fusileers, two squadrons of duke Albert's cuirassiers, and two of Latour's light horse, to observe the enemy, who had passed the Danube near Donawerth. On the forenoon of next day, the enemy made various demonstrations against our divisions, near Wertingen which gave reason to say, that they meant to advance against them in force. This was rendered more manifest by subsequent movements, and by the march of several colums to Zusmacshausen, and towards the causeway of Gunzburg. At length the battalions passed near Wertingen, at a great distance from the army, were attacked with vivacity by the enemy's cavalry in superior numbers; and our divisions of cavalry notwithstanding all the bravery they displayed, and their repeated efforts in support of the enemy, were not capable of resisting such a force. The loss on our side consists in one officer, 100 men killed; 13 officers and 221 men wounded; 52 officers and 1469 men made prisoners. The battallions of Spork's and the archduke Louis's grenadiers, suffered most. Three standards, 6 cannons, and several ammunitions waggons, have also fallen into the hands of the enemy. On the following day field marshal Auffenburg was missing, and it is supposed he was taken prisoner.

2. Battle of Guntzburgh, on the 9th of October, between the Royal and Imperial army, and the sixth corps of the French army, commanded by Marshal Ney. On the 8th of October, a part of the Austrian army advanced from Ulm to Guntzburgh, for the purpose of collecting the regiments which had not yet joined, but was arriving from their cantonments; and afterwards, if circumstances should permit, of proceeding by the right bank of the Danube against the enemy, should he attempt to pass that river. On the ninth the army encamped near Guntzburgh, its right wing resting on the village of Limpach, and its left on Reisersburgh. The bridges on the Danube were occupied as far as Leipham. The Austrian General Von Aspres was also posted on the left bank of the Danube with a corps of light troops, to detach parties and procure information respecting the enemy.

The camp at Guhtzburgh, was however carcely occupied, when the corps of Gen. Von Aspres, was compelled to retreat be-ond the Danube, after sustaining some loss nd the general himself being missing. The enemy under the command of marshal Ney, then penetrated in force to the bridg-s of the Danube, endeavoured to pass hem, and to drive our troops from the ank.

During the whole of the afternoon these ttempts were made in vain, but towards he evening a small column of the enemy ucceeded in forcing the passage of the ridge and of the causeway near Guntz-urgh, and penetrated into that town. The ivision of Blakenstein's hussars attacked his close column of the enemy with great ourage——but as it had in part reached the djacent wood the division was obliged to etire. At night the enemy remained mas-ers of the right bank near Guntzburgh—— All farther attacks or attempts to pass the iver was renounced, and the retreat to Ulm was effected during the night——The oss we sustained in killed cannot yet be scertained, as there has not been time for he regiments to make their returns. There re about five hundred wounded in the h s-pitals of Guntzburgh. and nearly six hun-dred and thirty prisoners were taken by he enemy. One piece of cannon belonging o Spork's regiment of infantry fell into the ands of the enemy.

3. Battle of Ulm, on the eleventh of October, between the imperial and royal rmy, and the sixth corps of the French rmy, commanded by marshal Ney.

The right wing of the Austrian army, efore Ulm, was attacked on the 11th Oc-ober with great impetuosity, by the French rmy of observation, under the command f marshal Ney. The plan of the French as to take Ulm by surprise, and the at-ack was made to favor the operation. Our ight wing repulsed the enemy on each at-ack, with the greatest firmness and valor. At the same time general Mack caused a onsiderable number of our left wing to dvance, which succeeded in turning the ight wing of the enemy, who had two re-iments of cavalry and two of infantry al-most entirely destroyed. The enemy retir-d in the greatest disorder descending the Danube. They left nearly 1500 men dead n the field of battle. We made from 8 o 900 prisoners, and took 11 cannon 20 mmunition waggons. A great number of ther waggons, and the baggage of general Dupont, fell into our hands. The prince f Schwartzenburgh, count Klenau, and Giulay, Albert's and Mack's curassiers, nd Latour's light horse particularly dis-inguished themselves. All the generals nd officers, as well as the troops, display-d at once the greatest steadiness and ac-ivity. We lost only a few hundred men. The battle and the pursuit of the enemy asted all night.

October 21.

His majesty the emperor has caused to e published a "true statement of the con-uct of the serene electoral Palatine (elect-r of Bavaria) of which the following is a orrect abridgement.

"The serene elector Palatine has pub-lished an historical statement, in which he owns himself an ally of France, and de-clares war against Austria and Russia, ex-cusing by false allegations, the breach of promise he had made to the Roman em-peror, of ceding his troops to him.

"Not content with the indemnifications the serene elector had received by the con-clusum of the empire of the 27th April, 1803, he suffered himself from ambition o be drawn into secret engagements with France which proved on every occasion, o tend systematically to counteract Aus-tria.

"As his ambitious hopes rested princi-pally upon the prospect of a fresh attack with which the court of Vienna was me-naced by France, on every occasion, those gradual armaments which his majesty was compelled to make, from the preparations made by the emperor Napoleon, became an object of his serene elector's attention. His first design was to raise a numerous army in Bavaria, and to hold it in readi-ess for the French emperor. The quick-ness of the Austrian armament prevented the execution of that intention, and the elector chose rather to hasten to go and join the French with all his troops, leaving his Bavarian and Suabian estates to their own fate, than to disappoint the expecta-tion of the enemy of public tranquility; consequently the whole of the Bavarian artillery was sent to Wurtsburgh, the Ba-varian and Suabian troops were assembled, & a French general was present to prepare every thing agreeably to the desire of the emperor Napoleon. His serene highness the elector had also prepared for his depar-ture, when prince Schwarzenberg arrived at Munich on the 6th of September.

The danger that the elector Palatine would join the French, was indubitable; consequently a serious demand for the ces-sion of troops became a just measure of self defence.

"The elector agreed to the demand ver-bally and in writing. He wrote to the prince, on the 7th September, with his own hand: 'I am resolved; confer with the minister Montgolas on the conditions;' The minister confirmed his sovereign's resolution, and proposed the conditions; and the elector's own regiment, and that of the electoral prince, should remain at the disposal of his serene highness: and that Munich and Nymphenburgh should be exempted from the passage of Austri-an troops. The agreement was to be con-cluded at Haag the following day.

"On the 8th of September, count No-garola was sent off to the emperor, with a letter from the elector, beginning in the following words: "I have this morning ordered my minister to conclude an agree-ment with prince Schwarzenberg, in pur-suance of which I shall unite my forces to those of your imperial and royal majesty, to give you a proof of my inviolable devo-tion." No sooner had count Nogarola set off with this letter, and even before prince Schwarzenberg could go from Munich to Haag, than the serene elector left Bavaria on the night of the 8th, and withdrew all his troops by forced marches, having empti-ed all the public chests, and taken with him even the deposited bonds, and widows and orphan's estates; whence it became neces-sary to put a stop to the further drawing of the annuities, &c. to prevent a total stag-nation to the whole administration of the country.

When prince Schwarzenbeg, and gene-ral Mack arrived at Haag, the electors in-tention of flying from his engagement was no longer a secret. After he had waited a long while, there appeared a Palatine lieutenant colonel, shewing, by his tone and proposals quite different from those of Mu-nich, that a pretence was sought for break-ing off a nugatory negociation.

It was refused to leave the electorial troops in Bavaria, their cession was to be deferred till the war had actually commen-ced, and they were always to remain toge-ther as a seperate body.

After what had happened, the Austrian generals could not consent to leave an in-dependant and numerous corps in the rear and flank of the Austrian army, which was hastening forward.

"The Bavarian troops were not to be embodied by men or companies with the Austrians, as has been falsely asserted on on the Palatine port, but to remain togeth-er in whole regiments or brigades. The entry of the Austrian and Russian troops in Germany had been notified to the se-rene elector, who had only made the ex-ception of the districts of Munich and Nymphenburgh.

"As to the requisition made for the maintainance of the Austrian troops, they are become indispensible, from the general practice of the French army, no other pow-er could otherwise cope with it. However since the entry of the French, the vast dif-ference between their mode of raising re-quisitions and the Austrian has been expe-rienced.

Nevertheless, to remove every pretence, his majesty declared by his envoy, count Buol, that he accepted the condition of leaving Palatine troops together in a sepa-rate corps. The objection stated in the Serene Elector's letter of September 8th, namely that the Electoral Prince was in France, was already removed, by the wise precaution of the Prince. Count Buol was even empowered to be finally satisfied with the dismissal (instead of the cession) of the troops, by the way of furlough, or even of the Bavarian troops alone.

"All was refused. The French troops were received by the elector with open arms; and all the Palatine troops joined them—They take the field against his ma-jesty and against the Emperor of Rus-sia, and war has been declared.

"In a word the elector has become false to his word, which he had given as a prince and as a man; false to his people and to his emperor; to the proved friend-ship of the emperor Alexander, to the se-curity and welfare of Germany and Eu-rope, which depend on the event of this war compelled by France. This is the true statement of a conduct which the loyal sub-jects of that Prince so loudly deprecate, at which the honorable and patriotic feelings of his brave troops revolt, who are now shedding their blood, not for the deliver-ance of Germany, but for its enemies, and who are compelled to stain their hands with German blood."

TUESDAY, JANUARY 14.

Married, last evening by the Rev. Mr. Muir, Mr. Isaac Entwisle, to Mrs. Ann Ryan, both of this place.

Letters by the Volunteer, Wells, dated the 5th ult. to a respectable house in New York, announce,

THAT an order had the preceding week been issued at Laguira and Porto-Cavello, totally prohibiting the further ex-portation of coffee, cocoa & hides.

From the London Morning Chronicle of November 15.

It appears that the numerous armies as-sembled in the North of Germany, where the last harvest was uncommonly bad, has created a scarcity of the most distressing kind. By the letters yesterday from Ham-burgh, the price of corn has risen to an ex-cessive degree. Our ministers have wise-ly sent stores of biscuit for the mainte-nance of gen. Don's army; but it would be well if ships were instantly taken to send a supply of corn, which we can very well spare. The wheat which has been import-ed from the very countries which now want it, cannot find a market in this coun-try at the price at which it was consigned; and yet not being entered for re-exportation, it cannot be sent back. Policy, as well as good neighborhood, demand, that we should relax from the law to serve them in their extremity.

Proceedings of Congress

Taken for the "ALEXANDRIA DAILY ADVERTISER."

NINTH CONGRESS,

OF THE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

SATURDAY, January 11.

Fire Arms.

Mr. Speaker in ormed the house that he had received a letter from the secretary at war, of the number of fire arms, belong-ing to the United States, with the places where they are deposited.

Total Amount, as near as it could be ta-ken from the reading;

Muskets - - -	113,501
Rifles - - -	3,666
Pistols - - -	1,938
Caribines - - -	986

It was moved that the letter and report should be printed:

When Mr. Alston, objected, saying it would show how defenceless we are in ma-ny positions, by designating the places where these arms are deposited—He there-fore moved that they be committed;

Which was agreed to;

The largest depot appeared to be at Springfield the others at Philadelphia, Har-per's Ferry, and New Orleans where there are large quantities of arms, and the re-mainder are distributed in the different forts, posts and garrisons, in the union.

Mr. J. C. Smith, chairman of the com-mittee of claims,—made a report on the petition of G. H. Lovejoy, late a soldier in the second regiment of engineers, stat-ing that he had lost both his eyes in a pri-vate affray, and was discharged from the army in consequence thereof, and praying to be put upon the pension list.

The report was that the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted;

To which the house immediately con-curred.

Mr. J. Clay presented the petition of the inspectors of Philadelphia, similar to that already before the house, from New. York;

Referred to the secretary of the navy.

Mr. Thomas, then observed that as there was nothing material before the house, he moved that the subject of yesterday should be resumed.

At 45 minutes past 12, in consequence of such business being of a secret nature, the galleries were cleared, and the house again the remainder of the day proceeded with CLOSED DOORS, and then adjourn-ed till Monday next.

Valuable Lands and Negroes
FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber desirous of disposing of his distant property, so as to bring his affairs more within his reach and management, offers for sale the following lands and negroes, at prices so reduced as to claim the attention of persons wishing to invest money in such property, viz.

CHATHAM, that elegant and highly improved seat on the banks of the Rappahannock River, directly opposite the town of Fredericksburg, containing about eleven hundred acres, four hundred of which are in wood, and valuable timber, the rest in cultivation, and pleasure grounds—The land in tillage is level, a considerable part of it has been highly manured, and the whole of it well adapted to the culture of grass, small grain, and Indian corn, as the crop now growing will attest. The house and offices are of brick, and on a large and handsome scale, with a garden in front containing four acres, laid off with taste and well planted with the choicest fruit trees, now in full bearing, and ornamented with forest trees and shrubs of almost every description.——There is on the estate adjoining the river, a grist-mill built of free stone, containing the modern machinery and two pair of stones, one of them French Burrs—It commands a large country custom, is well situated for merchant business, and has rented for five hundred dollars per annum exclusive of all the grain of the farm hopper free, which is equal to three hundred dollars more,—There are all necessary out houses, for either convenience or luxury, such as ice-house, spring-house, barn, stable, offices, &c. &c. With all these advantages and expensive improvements, this property is offered at a price which the lands alone ought to command. There are also some valuable fisheries, and quarries of free stone on this estate.

Also, a tract of land generally called Clark's, about two miles below Chatham, on the north bank of the Rappahannock river, and within view of the town of Fredericksburgh, containing upwards of four hundred acres. About one hundred and twenty acres of this tract is Rappahannock river bottom in cultivation, and is well adapted to Indian corn, small grain, &c. the residue is in wood, surrounding a height, which furnishes a beautiful scite for building.

Also, a tract of land in Stafford county, adjoining Stafford court house, containing upwards of twelve hundred acres. This is good farming land, and has several tenants on it.

Also, a tract of land in Westmoreland and Richmond counties, containing upwards of two thousand acres, on which there are also several tenants. These two last mentioned tracts of land will be sold in small tenements, or in entire tracts, as may best suit the wishes of purchasers.

Also, a tract of land called Boyd's Hole, containing about one hundred and fifty acres, on the banks of the Potomac, in King George county, on which there are a comfortable dwelling house, store and tobacco inspection ware house. Few situations combine more advantages, it being an excellent stand for a store, ferry and tavern, the two first of which are at present kept there. The houses have lately been put in good repair, and the buildings alone will rent for three hundred dollars a year. The land is good in quality, and the situation abounds in fish, oysters and wild fowl.

Also, a valuable Scite for a Mill, with 50 acres of Land adjoining, in King George county, and not far distant from the last mentioned tract. There has been a mill here for many years which has lately gone to decay, the dam is substantial and entire, and the situation for a country mill not equalled in that neighborhood, commanding a very extensive custom; the land is covered with cedar, which alone renders it very valuable.

Also, several Lots and Houses in the town of Fredericksburgh.

Likewise, about two hundred and thirty NEGROES, of different ages, sizes and description. A sale of them by families will be preferred; to effect this they will be offered at a reduced price. As a part of these Negroes are at present attached to the Chatham estate, the purchaser of that property may be accommodated with any number of them, as well as stock of every description.

Bank Stock of any of the Banks in Virginia, Maryland, or the district of Columbia, will be received in payment for any part of this property at a fair price, and bargains will be given, as the subscriber unable to attend to property so distant, is anxious to convert it into stock.

He will also rent a number of FARMS on his Ravensworth estate, containing from 2 to 400 acres each, on encouraging terms, to good farmers. They lay from eight to ten miles distant from Alexandria, George-Town, and the City of Washington, and convenient to the turnpike road now building from Alexandria to the upper country.
